Fishing Fleet Movements.

The captain of sch. Elenora reports speaking schs. Annie [Greenlaw and William H. Rider, recently.

Schs. A. S. Caswell and W. H. Rider from the banks, arrived at Canso, N. S., on Saturday. Sch. Gloriana passed, going north.

Sch. Annie Greenlaw, from Bacalieu Bank, passed Port Mulgrave for home on Sunday.

Mackerel News.

Sch. Helen Miller Gould arrived from Boston Monday afternoon. Both Capt. Jacobs and his crew are well pleased with the sailing qualities of the new craft and also say that the gasoline engine is a great help. The Gould will now have the big gasoline engine, the one originally intended for her, put in, and will sail as soon as possible. Capt. Jacobs has had a very successful season thus far and his many friends hope that his good fortune will continue. He and Capt. Harty of sch. Marguerite Haskins are having a pretty race for high line and it is the general opinion that the honor lies between them.

Sloop Helena, one of the netting fleet, landed 5000 fresh mackerel here this morning, selling to John Nagle at 6 and 3 cents each for large and small. This is the largest netting fare landed here this season.

But three of the Cape Shore fleet remain to arrive, schs. Henry W. Longfellow, Lizzie M. Stanwood and Nellie Dixon.

The crew of sch. Priscilla Smith shared $103.65 as the result of their southern seining season.

At Rockport this morning sch. Ethel landed 400 fresh mackerel and sloop Lena May 100.

The sloop Iris landed 90 barrels of fresh mackerel at New Bedford, Sunday.

Sch. Elenora will fit for seining under command of Capt. Willam Poole.

Sch. Susie Hooper harbored at Rockport last night.
